

Zombies -

You've seen the movies, played the games, perhaps read the comics or read one of the many hot new 'Zombie' books coming out these days.

But have you ever thought of what existence is like for a Zombie? Have you ever asked yourself, 'What does a Zombie want out of Unlife, anyway?'

The Same Things As a Living Person

It's true! Zombies are hardworking, taxpaying citizens, looking to build Unlives and contribute to their communities. Don't buy into the Hollywood stereotype of the shambling, brain-fixated, smelly decomposing Zombie a day longer!

Unfortunately, It's Not That Simple

Despite their best efforts reaching out to the Living Community, Zombies are still the victims of widespread prejudice, discrimination and misunderstanding.

That's Why We're Here

The Zombie Rights Campaign was founded to foster peaceful coexistence between the Living and the Differently Animated, and we labor almost as tirelessly as the Undead themselves, toward a happier and more tolerant future.

What We Do

The Zombie Rights Campaign is a pro-active, ultra-modern, high-tech operation focusing on fighting these cruel stereotypes with every tool at our disposal. We operate the Web's premiere Pro-Zombie organization at www.zombierightscampaign.org, review artistic works for their portrayal of the Undead Community, engage in direct action, protests and picketing, etc.

We work hardest at fostering a productive dialogue between Zombies, their supporters, and the general public, in the hope of creating a brighter future for everyone.

How You Can Help

If you want to contribute to the cause of Undead Equality, then we want your help! There are many enjoyable ways to promote tolerance of the Differently Animated.

- Support Pro-Zombie Media and positive portrayals of the Zombie population
- Speak out to your friends, neighbors, family about the plight of the Zombie-American
- When you see someone use the word 'Zombie' as an epithet, remind them that Zombies are people too!

You can also support the ZRC itself! We would love to see you at future ZRC events (see the blog for details). You can download informational materials from our site, comment on Zombie-topics, and even purchase a wide variety of Zombie Friendly products from our ZRC store.
